Director of AED Maintenance Annual Report

Brian Moretti reported on behalf of George Wood. During his most recent equipment check, George found that one AED was not working properly. It was not providing audible instructions. Rob Wright contacted the fire department representative who then gave us a loaner and sent in our unit for repair.

The AED pads are due for replacement in June 2023. The cost is $125 for two pads. The batteries currently cost $360 each and are due for replacement in January 2024. The AED units, which were purchased in 2017, are still under warranty. The current replacement cost is $3,600 for two units.

Director of AED Responders Annual Report

Mike Mandell reported that all responders have completed refresher training, including CPR practice using the mannequin. During training Mike also covered safety, procedure and lessons learned from previous callouts.

Secretary Annual Report

Peg Betourne reported that four meetings were held in 2022. Quarterly meetings were held in May, August and June. The 2022 annual meeting was held in February. All minutes are posted on the Dunedin AED website, which serves all units within Dunedin. (link)

Topic 3 Annual Elections

The board positions due for election at this annual meeting are President, Vice President and Director of Communications.

In accordance with our annual election process, the terms for President, Vice President and Director of Communications are expiring and are due for election. Incumbent president Rob Wright is not seeking reelection. Prior to this annual meeting, Director of Communications Sandy Booth sent an email to all Dunedin 201 residents soliciting interest in becoming an active part of HEART 201, and specifically asking them to consider serving in these board positions. When no one expressed interest, Brian Moretti became the sole candidate for President. The board recommended Jay Sampson for Vice President, which he accepted, and Sandy Booth agreed to continue serving as Director of Communication.

Therefore, the following were elected to 3-year terms: Brian Moretti as President, Jay Sampson as Vice President and Sandy Booth as Director of Communications.

Note: To ensure continuity of the AED program, board members are elected to staggered terms. Future elections are shown below.

- > 2024 Secretary and Director of Responders
- > 2025 Treasurer and Director of Maintenance
- > 2026 President, Vice President and Director of Communications

Note for when officers (President, Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary) change. There are two signature cards at Citizens First bank. The signatures of all four people in officer positions are on the club registration card and therefore all four must go to the bank to sign a new card, even if only one person changes. The second signature card is for the maintenance of the checking and savings accounts. The President and Treasurer are currently the only two signatories on that card. So only the people in those positions sign the card.

Topic 3 Annual Review of Bylaws

No changes were proposed for this year.

Topic 4 Old Business – Pulse Point and Ready Alert

We still do not know why Sumter County is requiring new AED clubs south of Rt 44 to use Pulse Point rather than Ready Alert. Sumter County continues to use both services. With the Pulse Point app, users chose the event types for which they want to receive alerts. Users then receive alerts for events within their vicinity, wherever that may be in the county. There is no option in the app to receive alerts exclusively for events in a22 user's home neighborhood. Therefore, if a HEART 201 responder is not within the vicinity of unit 201, they will not receive an alert for their home neighborhood.

There was discussion on whether AED programs that choose Pulse Point are required to keep their AED boxes unlocked so that all users of Pulse Point, including those in the vicinity but from outside the neighborhood, can easily access AED units anywhere in the county.

Rich Hill, a responder, said he does not rely on his cell phone for alert notifications. By choice, Ready Alert sends alerts to his home landline. Therefore, currently he would not receive Pulse Point alerts that are received through the cell phone app.

Brian and Mike will continue using both programs to get a better understanding of both and to compare the pros and cons of the free (Pulse Point) versus the pay service (Ready Alert). As of now, HEART 201 is leaning towards keeping Ready Alert's service.

Topic 5 New Business

Fund Raising

Brian reported the state of our finances and projected expenses. We currently have $4,580 in our accounts. The cost to replace AED equipment, including two AED units, two batteries, and two sets of pads will be approximately $4,500. Our current AEDs have a 7-year warranty and are now 6 years old (purchased in early 2017). We might be able to sell our used AED units to a local business or even a private household, to recoup some of our expenses.

The board agreed a fundraiser is needed and recommended having it in early 2024 when most snowbirds are here. There was a discussion on whether to solicit only those residents who are new to the neighborhood since our previous fundraiser or to solicit all residents in unit 201. There was also a discussion about how much to solicit for. The consensus was to solicit all households in unit 201 for $50 per household.

Responder Drill

Brian suggested we conduct an announced responder drill. Mike did not believe that an unannounced drill would add value. Rich stated that Ready Alert will participate by sending an alert for drill, if we decide to conduct one. Discussion was tabled for another meeting.

Rich stated, after talking with the wife of a cardiac arrest patient a few years ago who said she had never called 911 and did not know what to expect, he created a training session for unit 201 residents and offered sessions in his home. He only got a handful of participants. He believes this is still a valuable training. Brian suggested creating a handout covering the information rather than conducting face to face sessions. It was recommended that block captains distribute the handouts and that the handouts be something concise and useful that residents would be more likely to keep handy for future reference. Rich will send the information to Brian for review.
